As a group, the Salisbury State College faculty is an academic body of the highest order, both in knowledge of their field of study and in quality of their credentials. Each is dedicated to working primarily in a teaching role rather than one of individual research and publication.

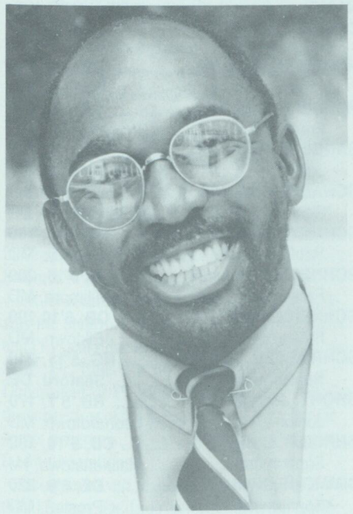
Salisbury State College–A Place Apart

Dr. William Lide Directs P.E., Athletics



Dr. William Lide is the new chairman of Physical Education, Intramurals and Athletics at Salisbury State College this fall. Dr. Lide comes to Salisbury after stops at The Ohio State University, Johnson C. Smith University and Winston-Salem State University.

Dr. Lide received his Bachelor of Science degree from Johnson C. Smith and a Master of Education from the University of North Carolina at Charlotte. At Ohio State, along with earning his Ph.D. in Physical Education, Dr. Lide was an academic counselor and instructor.

From 1980-1984, Dr. Lide was chairman of the Department of Health and Physical Education at Johnson C. Smith where he coached the football and tennis teams for two years. Since 1984, Dr. Lide had been at Winston-Salem. There he was chairman of the Department of Physical Education.

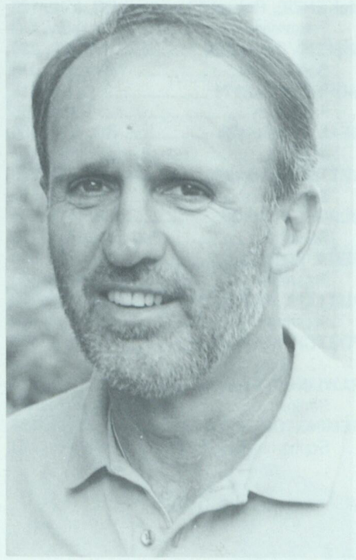
At Winston-Salem, he was in charge of the administration of the curriculum and personnel and program planning. He also headed the intramural and recreational sports departments, as well as being facility manager.

He also was behind many classroom improvements at the school, including adding two new degree programs, Theraputic Recreation and Sports Management, as well as increasing the full-time faculty by one-third in two years. During those two years, the grade point averages of the students also increased.

"We need to study and know exactly where the Physical Education and Athletic programs are now," said Lide, "and to formulate a plan which would continue to build the athletic program in conjunction with the academic plan."

Morrison, Burroughs to Assist P.E. Administration

MARIUNA MORRISON



DEAN BURROUGHS

Mariuna Morrison is the new associate chairman of the Department of Physical Education at Salisbury State College. She had coached the women's basketball team at the school for 21 seasons before stepping down in 1982. Last year she was acting chairman of the department and kept "our program going in a positive direction," said Athletic Director Dr. William Lide. "Mariuna has been an exemplary educator for many years. Her positive experiences and performance in the educational area were certainly major considerations in her appointment.

Dean Burroughs, who is on sabbatical this fall, is the new Associate Director of Athletics, and will begin serving on January 3. Burroughs has been at Salisbury State College since 1973. He has coached the men's tennis team since his arrival, and often doubled as the women's tennis coach. According to Dr. Lide, "His performance while serving as acting Director of Athletics last year was a major consideration in his selection to the Associate Director post."

Intercollegiate Athletics: A Mission to Educate

"Intercollegiate athletics is a vital part of the total educational experience–and fits in with the vision of the College as an extracurricular activity in support of the total person. A student athlete is a very special person because it requires a special type of individual to maintain quality grades and a committment to the team."

Those are the feelings of Dr. William Lide, the Athletic Director at Salisbury State College, who assumed the position during the summer, and thus is beginning his first year here after successful stops at Johnson C. Smith University in Charlotte, NC and most recently at Winston-Salem University.

At Johnson Smith, from 1980-1984, Dr. Lide was the chairman of the Department of Health and Physical Education While at Winston-Salem State, Dr. Lide was the chairman of the Department of Physical Education and was also the supervisor of the intramural and recreational sports programs, as well as being in charge of facility operations.

Being involved in higher education for more than 12 years, Dr. Lide has special thoughts and ideas about intercollegiate athletics.

Dr. Lide believes that the Division III philosophy of awarding financial aid based upon need is the best way to help the students. He also feels that colleges should not be considered a minor league for professional sports.

"Athletics has the great potential for building character and positive values in young men and women, and serving as a laboratory for life's experiences," said Dr. Lide.

Dr. Lide has initiated an academic bank, enabling students to know where they are in relation to credits and necessary classes. He also has begun a drug-education and awareness program. "We want to try to prevent the problem–not wait until it happens and then try to do something about it," explained Dr. Lide.

He also would like more student involvement concerning the department and an athletic roundtable for the coaches, "not for decision by committee, but for the best possible advice." And, he wants to develop "a strong bond between the department, the administration and the community."

While these are his Athletic Department goals, he has a personal goal–to provide strong leadership. He hopes that this leadership will enhance the performance of those who coach and teach.

And, because of his believing in the general Division III philosophy of first a student and then an athlete, teaching should be emphasized.

"I feel that every coach should also teach," said Dr. Lide. "We maintain our integrity in athletics through academics. If a student athlete is having trouble, and a tutorial session is being offered, I expect the student to be there–and the coach to let him go. The general goals of our athletic program are the same as that of our academic program; and specifically, they go hand-in-hand."

And of course, a goal of any athletic program is to have a winning program. "Coaches have to show strong leadership on the field and off, " said Dr. Lide. "This is one of the key ingredients for a winning formula. You have to recruit the youngsters and have a knowledge of your sport. You have to show discipline and character, which doesn't necessarily mean you have to go out and beat someone 42-0."

The leadership and knowledge, discipline and character that Dr. Lide feels builds a winning team with the coaches are also needed by the athletes. And, in his message to the student-athletes of Salisbury State College, Dr. Lide said so.

"Participation in intercollegiate athletics can be one of the most enriching experiences of your life. It can offer you much value instructionally and culturally, build upon self-confidence and self-esteem, enhance leadership capability, offer friendships for a lifetime, serve as source of skill development, serve as a source of fun and enjoyment at any age, offer the exhiliration of keen competition, allow you to experience the thrill of victory, yet find that defeat is not always tragic (in athletic terms) and serve as a source of physical fitness and as a catalyst for unity and pride within your school and community."

These are all key ingredients for a successful and winning program, both on the field and off. And it all starts at the top.

TODAY'S GAME

This afternoon's game features the Panthers of Ferrum College and the Sea Gulls of Salisbury State, in the home-opener for the Gulls.

History of the Series

Last year was the second meeting between the two clubs. In the initial meeting in 1985, Salisbury used a high-powered offense to destroy the Panthers, 44-14. Last year, a 34-yard pass from Kevin White to Donald Washington, with just under four minutes left brought the Sea Gulls back from a 14-0 first-quarter deficit to a 16-14 win.

Last Time Out

On Saturday, the Panthers upped their record to 2-0 with a 31-16 win over visiting St. Paul's. Last Saturday, the Sea Gulls traveled to Long Island, NY and came away with their second close victory over upset-minded C.W. Post in the last two years. The Gulls were tied after one period at seven, on the strength of a 38-yard run by Coppa. Salisbury came out after intermission, received the second-half kickoff and drove 62 yards on 18 plays, eating 7:47 off of the clock, with Frank Oliver taking it in from two yards out. The Pioneers tied the score before the end of the quarter on a 74-yard scoring strike. But Bill Maurer kicked the game-winning field goal of 39 yards, with 8:39 to play.

The Coaches

Panther mentor Hank Norton is in his 28th season and comes in with a career record of 192-59-10. For Sea Gull coach Dr. Joe Dailey this is his first time at the helm at Sea Gull stadium.

Injuries

Ferrum reports starting quarterback, senior Steve Schweingruber as questionable for today's game. Junior defensive back John Lord, who led the Panthers in interceptions last year with five, has yet to play a down this season. For the Sea Gulls, starting linebacker Chris Snyder did not dress and was replaced by Randy Smith. Snyder's status is day-to-day.

Statistics

At quarterback, Schweinburger is 8 for 18 for 75 yards with one touchdown and one interception. Ferrum 's other quarterback is sophomore Phil Jones. He is 9 out of 15 for 100 yards and one score. For Salisbury State, White was 7 for 17 against Post, for 113 yards. On the ground sophomore 5'4 running back Freddie Stoval leads Ferrum with 173 yards on 21 carries, and three scores. For the Gulls, Coppa picked up 93 yards on 22 carries while Oliver had 47 yards on 19 times and Don Washington picked up 34 yards on nine carries. Stoval is Ferrum's leading receiver with seven catches for 42 yards, while the Gulls' Mike DiLeonardo caught three passes for 82 yards. On defense Ferrum has picked off eight passes. The Gulls picked off three Post passes on Saturday, one each by Slaughter, Rob Wagner and Doug Shriver. Ferrum has fumbled the ball 15 times and lost seven, while the Gulls lost their only fumble thus far.

The Gulls have now won 20 straight regular season games, eight straight road games, and have scored in 48 straight games.

Next Game

The next game for Salisbury State is one week from today, when the Gulls host Frostburg in a 1:30 p.m. affair.

He comes to Salisbury following a 19-year tenure at Williams College in Massachusetts, where he was the head coach of the wrestling team and the assistant coach of the football team. He was also an assistant professor of Physical Education at the school.

Dr. Dailey received his B.S. in Physical Education from Ithaca College in 1960 and his M.S. in Physical Education from Ithaca in 1961. In 1972 he received his M.S. in Education Administration from North Adams State College (MA) and his Ph.D. in Physical Education in 1986 from the University of New Mexico.

Along with coaching at Williams, Dr. Dailey was head football and head wrestling coach at Smithtown High School in St. James, NY from 1961-1966 and at Colonie High School in Albany, NY from 1966-1968. In 1979 he taught Physical Education at the Navajo Indian Reservation in Window Rock, AZ and was an assistant football coach and graduate assistant at the University of New Mexico in 1983.

"Dr. Dailey's expertise and success in football will serve the institution well as we move forward in maintaining our very excellent varsity athletic program," said vice president of Academic Affairs Dr. K. Nelson Butler. "He believes in excellence on the playing field as well as in the classroom."

Dr. Dailey's goals for this year are "to improve the defense and try to maintain the offense from last year. You always try to improve and strive for excellence on both sides of the ball."
